Beautiful Swimproof Lips

MARY ELLEN KAY
featured in "Harness Bull," an RKO production

WITHOUT LIPSTICK

And These Newly Luscious Colors Can't Smear Anything —or Anyone

Bid 'good-by' to lipstick and see your lips more beautiful than ever before. See them decked in romance-hued liquid color that really can't smear. Obviously this miracle couldn't be performed by lipstick made of grease, and it isn't. A Liquid does it . . . Liquid Liptone contains no grease—no wax, no paste. Just pure, vibrant color.

Now you can make up your lips before you go out—and no matter what you do—or whether it be in sunlight or in moonlight—they will stay divinely red until long after you are home again.

Makes the Sweetest Kiss Because It Leaves No Mark on Him!

Think of it! Not a tiny bit of your Liquid Liptone leaves your lips for his—or for a napkin or tea-cup. It stays true to your lips alone.

Feels Marvelous On Your Lips . . . they stay soft and smooth, protected against sun and wind. At all stores $1

Please try SEVERAL SHADES at my invitation

You can't possibly know how beautiful your lips will be, until you see them in Liquid Liptone. Check coupon. Enclose 25c for each shade. Mail it at once. I'll send you trial sizes of all shades you order. Each bottle is at least 2-week supply. Expect to be thrilled. You WILL be!

MY GAL SAL

IT seems like just last month that Sally Rogers was the biggest tomboy in our class. In fact it was just last month that Sally suddenly threw away those blue jeans and gave her brother back his spare white shirts, and began to dress up in those cute dresses girls of seventeen should wear. I'm Tommy Webster, by the way. If you've ever attended any of the baseball or football games at Saybrook High School's athletic field, I'm sure you've seen me play.

But to get back to Sally . . . she and I dated pretty steady, and it was generally understood that Sally would go with me to all the school dances and other social affairs. Of course, Sally could be as feminine as the next girl, when it came to these evening dates. But what upset me a little was the way Sally persisted in her tomboy ways during the day . . . blue jeans and a white shirt and moccasins. It was sort of embarrassing for me, sometimes, to go to a movie matinee with Sally and have to stride along Main Street beside her and her looking more like my kid brother than my girl. But there was no arguing with Sally, when she had her mind set on doing a certain thing in a certain way.

Sally could often be found on the athletic field when the school baseball team was having afternoon practice. Of course, the fact that coach Rogers was her father might have had something to do with that! But anyway Sally wasn't satisfied with just sitting on the sidelines and watching the boys going through batting practice or fielding. Not Sally! You'd either find her batting out those fast liners to the infield, or she'd be out in center field catching flies. Well, that should give you a pretty good idea of the personality of my gal Sal. A tomboy if there ever was one!

But as I said in the beginning of my story, it was just about a month ago that Sally suddenly became all feminine! I was actually shocked when I called at her house one Saturday afternoon to take her to a movie, and instead of those eternal blue jeans, Sally was wearing the prettiest light green dress I ever saw! With her blonde tresses, she was really as pretty as a picture. I couldn't help whistling and telling her she looked like a young actress. That seemed to please her no end, for she gave me her sweetest smile that made my heart melt, and she hooked her arm in mine, and walked down the walk to my car parked at the curb.

It was on the way to the movie that Sally revealed the reason for the sudden change in her manner of dress. And I also understood then why she had given me that sweet smile when I said she looked like a young actress in that cute green dress. Because my gal Sal had suddenly gotten the notion that she wanted to become an actress! If she had told me she wanted to become a professional baseball player, I would have been less shocked! An actress! This required some tactful investigation, I thought to myself. Why the sudden desire to pursue the career of an actress? I put this question to Sally.

"Have you seen the new English teacher who reported at school yesterday?" she asked me.

I remembered a tall, young and handsome teacher who had come to Saybrook High to teach. I had seen him the previous day in the school auditorium, looking over the stage arrangement.

"Yes, I saw Mr. Kent," I answered. "What's he got to do with your sudden decision to become an actress?"

I didn't like that dreamy look on Sally's face. "Mr. Kent," she replied, "is going to direct this year's senior class play . . . and I've decided to try out for one of the parts!"

So that was it! A new handsome teacher in the person of Mr. Kent who was to direct the school play. That was the reason for the sudden femininity and the new ambition! I started to say something about it being a far cry from a school play to becoming a star on Broadway or in Hollywood. But discretion is the better part of valor, they say, and knowing how Sally could get riled up at the least bit of criticism when she had an idea in her mind, I kept my thoughts to myself. Maybe it wouldn't be as bad as it seemed at the moment. Maybe Sally wouldn't get a part in the school play after all . . . or maybe the tough grind of rehearsing and learning her role would discourage her from further interest in the theatrical life. I decided to bide my time and let Sally get over her actress ambitions all by herself.

ATLAS FOR THE BEST IN TEEN TALES LOOK FOR THE ATLAS SEAL ON THE COVER! ATLAS

I realized just how badly she had been bitten by the acting bug as we watched the dramatic picture at the movie that afternoon. At the most exciting part of the film, when the star was pleading with the man she loved not to take that engineering job in South America but to marry her right away instead and take the job offered him by her rich father, I could feel Sally get tense and dramatic beside me! Yes, Sally really had it bad, the acting bug, I mean . . . because no heart-rending scene on the silver screen ever made her react like that before! What Sal was doing, of course, was putting herself in the role of the actress and pretending that she was emoting . . . she was the actress portraying the part of the unhappy young girl saddened by the impending departure of the man she loved!

Frankly, I had never seen Sally take anything so seriously before as this business of becoming an actress, and I don't mind admitting it had me worried. After all, if Sal did decide to pursue an acting career, she'd have to leave Saybrook and go to New York probably, and I couldn't imagine getting along without seeing Sal every day, or at least every other day.

Help came from a most unexpected source! From Mr. Kent himself! Yes, the very guy on whom Sal evidently had a crush . . . the man who was to start her on an acting career . . . became an unexpected ally! You see, the girls and guys who wanted to be in the school play had to read something for Mr. Kent, to show him how they could emote. Sally had selected a portion of "Romeo and Juliet" to read to Mr. Kent. Now I have nothing against Shakespeare or "Romeo and Juliet" . . . but when it comes to a high school gal spouting those sugar-sweet lines of Juliet while she stands on the balcony . . . well, "corny" is the only word I can think of to describe it! Oh, it's fine for a mature, experienced stage or screen actress. But a seventeen-year old gal who never acted before in her life? Corny, I say. And Mr. Kent felt the same way about it, when he sat in the front row of seats in the school auditorium and listened to Sal. I had sneaked into the hall from the back door and saw it all.

"What's in a name?" Sal was reciting. "That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet!"

It was awful! Like a kid standing before company in his house while his parents showed him off and he was required to recite "The boy stood on the burning deck!"

"Good night, good night! Parting is such sweet sorrow, that I shall say good night till it be morrow!"

"That's enough!" Mr. Kent said. "I'm afraid you won't do, Miss Rogers. We need actors for this school production, not merely someone who can recite clearly and distinctly. Thank you for trying, anyway."

Poor Sal! She was really crushed! Her dream of becoming an actress coming to a sudden end in this rude awakening! I met her outside the school a half hour later. She looked blue all right, and I told her to hop into my car and I'd treat her to a soda downtown. In the ice cream parlor she managed a smile for the first time since she walked off the stage in the school auditorium.

"How's the team coming along, Tommy? Think we'll beat Clinton High on Saturday?"

Now this was more like my gal Sal! "Sure we'll win!" I assured her. "A couple more days of practice, and we'll smooth out the rough spots!"

We finished our sodas and I drove Sally home. She sure looked pretty in that cute green dress, I thought. But now that her mind was off the subject of becoming an actress, I wondered if she'd become a tomboy again. I had my answer the next afternoon when Sally came to the athletic field with her dad to watch us practice. No blue jeans! Just the prettiest yellow dress I ever saw! Sal didn't handle a bat or a glove the whole afternoon. She just sat on the bench and watched us, smiling at me whenever she caught my eye.

That's about all there is to tell about my gal Sal . . . from tomboy baseball player to actress to Tommy Webster's best girl. Of course Sal wasn't even an actress for a day . . . but she's going to be my gal from here to eternity, if I may borrow a phrase from Kipling. But no more Shakespeare, please!

PATSY'S CLUB PAGE

Hi, gang! Many thanks for all your wonderful letters. I love them all, and particularly the few below!

Dear Patsy:

I have a girl friend just like Hedy. Although she claims to be my best friend, she says things about me behind my back, and tries to get my boy friends away from me. How can I stop her and make her leave me and the boys alone?

Love,
GAY WHITTEN
Houston, Texas

Dear Gay:

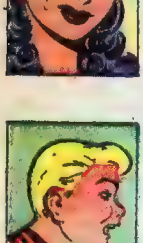
How well I understand your problem. And how naive some boys can be! The only thing we gals in this position can do is to fight back. Remember in the last issue when Hedy had a party and had me do all the planning so I'd be too tired to come? Well, I beat her at her own game by making Buzz do the work, and then HE was too tired and neither of us went to the party. If your friend sees that you catch on to her game and are going to fight back at her, she'll probably learn to stay out of your affairs. Their are very few girls who are quite as persistent as Hedy.

Love,
Patsy

Dear Patsy:

My mom told me if I wanted to be popular around school I would have to dress well and have a pleasant disposition. Can you give me some more helpful hints on going about this?

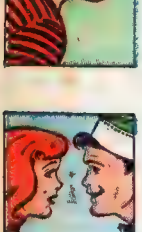
Love,
LINDSEY STOKES
New Bern, N.C.



Dear Lindsey:

"Mother knows best" is not such a passe expression, after all. Your disposition, of course, is the A number one problem. Give yourself the once-over. Do you go out of your way to make friends? Are you nice to everyone? Are you a good sport, and do you take things with a smile? You know, my mom's pretty terrif also, and she taught me one thing . . . a smile goes a long way on the popularity road. If you read my comics regularly, you'll notice that I'm friends with everyone. But Hedy, she is always scheming and often uses people to her own advantage, and it gets her no place . . . particularly with Buzz. As far as dressing well, look back to what I told Marilyn Gilbert in the last issue. It's a matter of good grooming and good selection, not money spent.

Love,
Patsy



Dear Patsy:

I am crazy about your comic magazines. I hear that you are putting out a new comi about fashions and stories and many othe things. I can hardly wait to read it.

Your friend,
CAROLINE HOWELL
Silsbee, Texas

Dear Caroline:

That GIRLS' LIFE you're talking about, an the fourth issue is on the stands now. It packed with sugar and spice and everythin that's nice, and what's even nicer . . . I'm th editor. Get a copy and let me know how yo like it.

Love,
Patsy

Dear Patsy:

I read all your comics. My favorite was i issue #52 when you went to New York wit your Mother. Hedy got Buzz to take her to th end term dance. What an awful time he had And then he met you at the train, after all

Love,
DIANE ANASTOS
Taunton, Mass.

Dear Diane:

It really was an amusing incident now tha I think back on it. At the time, though, I wa very unhappy. Wasn't my date, Bromley d Beal ill a scream? And that, "Chawmed, Dah ling," really sent me. But there's no doub about it, absence makes the heart grow fonde . . . for both Buzz and myself.

Love,
Patsy

Dear Patsy:

My girl friend is really a nice girl, but sh doesn't seem to care how she looks. When w go to the show on Friday nights all she want to wear is faded patched jeans and an old shirt I have tried talking to her but she only get mad. I would like your advice on what to do

Your fan,
DONNA HATLEY
Concord, California

Dear Donna:

I think your friend has a lot to learn abou good grooming. Don't get me wrong . . . I lov dungarees, but only in their place. Perhaps on night your friend will accidentally meet some one she wants to make an impression on, an will be so embarrassed by her attire, that sh will realize she is wrong. Of course, eventuall she'll guess something is wrong when the boy don't ask her out. Boys like a girl to look lik a girl and act like a lady. A little prodding b a sincere friend like yourself, plus that wonder ful teacher, experience, and I'm sure she wil wake up one day soon.

Love,
Patsy

She Once Had THIN LEGS!

"Now I have Fuller Calves, Shapely Thighs, Hips and Ankles."

Writes Miss R. U., Cleveland, Ohio

THE most encouraging news for women with thin, under-developed legs has just been revealed by Henry Milchstin, Ph.T. If your thin legs are due to normal causes and you haven't any disease or pathological condition, you should try to attain the strong alluring shapely legs you've always wanted. This well-known physiotherapist, who was President of the Metropolitan School of Physiotherapy and is a member of the New York State Society of Physiotherapists, has an enviable record of helping lovely stage and screen actresses as well as women like yourself to mold beautiful legs. Over a period of 32 years, he has used an amazingly natural method which is unsurpassed by anything we have ever seen.

ORDINARY METHODS FOUND TO HELP LITTLE IN FILLING OUT THIN LEGS

Many women engaged in improper strenuous exercises and calisthenics used up a lot of time and energy but it did next to nothing for rounding out skinny legs.

Other women actually tried weight gaining diets to improve skinny legs. The legs generally gain far less, if anything, in proportion than the rest of the body. Also, adding flabby fat to the legs does not necessarily result in the seductive, shapely curves which men admire and which look so appealing in anything you wear.

IN MANY CASES DOCTORS ADVISE USE OF THIS TECHNIQUE

This Progressive Scientific Method for developing skinny legs is based on the knowledge and experience of the medical profession, physiotherapists and famous body building experts throughout the world.

The wonderful, scientific method is intended to stimulate the tissues and muscle structure of the legs and encourage their development to normally rounded natural contours. When blood circulation is properly stimulated to the point where it helps nourish those lazy tissues, it also tends to tone the skin with a vibrant glow. When each section of the leg has its proper normal shape, the hips possess seductive, feminine curves which men admire, the thighs are superbly rounded, knees are daintily shaped without knobby, bony appearance, the calves fill out with soft curves, and even the ankles are pretty and appealing. Remember, the muscular structure of a woman's leg is basically different from a man's. So that when your legs develop, you only add graceful feminine curves.

"ALL-AROUND GLAMOUR LEGS" HELP WOMEN IN EVERYTHING THEY DO

Most figure experts agree that poor legs spoil an otherwise shapely figure . . . while nicely rounded limbs add an appearance of over-all figure. Because the legs are the one part of the beauty to even the poor and average body which always shows, glamorous legs help you look better in any clothes you wear — dresses, skirts, sports and play clothes, bathing suits, etc. They make you a more desirable dance partner and help you do the latest steps more gracefully. Well-formed legs help you in all sports; they enable you to swim, skate, bowl, play tennis, etc., with more ease and better form. They help you walk and stand with ease, with the posture which always wins admiration.

They give you more energy for work and play, help lessen fatigue, especially when your job or housework keeps you on your feet.

↑BEFORE

Miss R. U. had scrawny legs, was self-conscious, and the boys never gave her a second glance.

AFTER →

Look at the shapely curves of her legs now. She writes that she couldn't believe the difference herself.

From the Very FIRST DAY You may feel the stimulating effects of this method!
